

TOWN COLLECTS
$13,915 IN TAXES
SO FAR THIS YEAREstimate Will Collect $23,100 this Year—Regular Session Held
Last Monday Evening

The sum of $13,915.42 has been collected in 1930 taxes by the Bassano town council up to July 31, 1930.

Last year during the same period of time $14,883.84 was collected. The mayor and councillors are pleased with the manner in which the tax money is coming in, and they estimate that $23,100 will have been collected by the end of 1930.

The council held a regular meeting last Monday evening, August 4, at which the secretary treasurer reported the amount of taxes paid to date.

"Considerable routine business was transacted at the meeting."

The town engineer reported four graves dug during the month of July, two leaks repaired in the water mains, the sidewalk program completed, work done in cutting weeds, all streets graded since the rains.

In connection with the sidewalk program ratemeters will be installed to learn that there are now 125 yards of concrete sidewalk in town, about twelve blocks in all.

The Cemetery

In view of the increased expenditures at the cemetery for irrigation and care of trees, the council decided to increase the cost of cemetery plots. In the past the rate has been $2.50 for a single plot and $10 for a family plot. In many other towns the rates are $5 and more for a single plot, and as high as $50 for a family plot.

Wages
A recommendation was made by the finance committee and adopted by the council that wages for common laborers be 35 cents an hour in future.

Young Students Honored

The entertainment sponsored by the local U. F. A. and Board of Trade on Friday evening was a splendid success. The hall was crowded to capacity to do honor to the Hussar young people who had represented Bassano at Calgary, Ottawa and elsewhere this summer. The guests of honor were: Roy Hazland and Helen Snellings, who were among the young judges at the Calgary exhibition and won honor. Ruthen Snellings winning second place and the gold medal; Woodrow Elliott, Margaret Bell and Raymond Kelly, who were sent by the U. F. A. to Ottawa for the co-operative conference.

Miss Isabel Dundas and Cassel Williams, who attended the W. I. Girls Club convention in Calgary, 58.15, and the school fair winners who went to Clarendon for the special session of the school of agriculture, 158.50.

Each of the young people gave a short talk on their experiences. In addition there was the following: "O Canada," sung by all; opening address by F. J. Muller; piano solo.

CHAMPION MERMAIDS IN ROCKIES

Champion lady swimmers and divers of the United States invaded Bassano and Lake Louise this week, and gave thrilling exhibitions in the pools attached to the Canadian Pacific hotels at both resorts. Hundreds of guests at both hotels witnessed the show where skill and scenes of superb natural beauty make a remarkable combination. Illustration shows the team with a background of Lake Louise and mountains in the distance. They are, from left to right, Agnes Gargahy, Olympic swimmer; Catherine Ames, Lila Lindstrom, metropolitan distance champion and Olympic swimmer; Madeleine Haig, junior metropolitan champion; Eleanor Holm, national champion of the United States, 100 and 200 yards, back stroke; and Georgia Coleman, national champion diver, who is also listed. All are from New York, except Miss Coleman, who is from Los Angeles.

KEEP OUT OF CANAL

Sergeant J. N. Cawsey issues a warning to boys that swimming in the big irrigation canal east of Bassano is prohibited.

The fatality which occurred last Wednesday night when Otto Polmann was drowned emphasizes the danger of swimming in the canal.

There is a good swimming pool right here in Bassano, and it is not necessary or safe for boys to go elsewhere for a dip.

Margaret Bell; banjo solo, Chester Thew and Louis Hargett; song by the Girls Club; reading by Leona Armstrong; song by Marjorie Jantz; reading by Jimmy Treacy; saxophone duet by Manville Anderson and Jason Bell. After singing God Save the King there followed one of the peepiest dances Hussar has seen for many a day. The music was furnished by the local orchestra, and was thoroughly enjoyed. The lunch was donated by the U. F. A. women, and was very much enjoyed. Just how much everyone enjoyed the evening may be gathered from the fact that the crowd lingered till the strains of "Home Sweet Home" reminded them of the lateness of the hour, about 3:40 a.m.

"The Divine Lady"

The opening feature film for Friday and Saturday this week, August 8 and 9, is "The Divine Lady."

There is no picture program for the early part of next week, but another good program will be shown Friday and Saturday next week.

"The Divine Lady" is a picture of the most gigantic sea spectacle the screen has ever known. One of the most colorful naval combats in history. See Lord Nelson's mighty fleet routing defiance to the French in the history-famous battle of Trafalgar.

See R. Harrington's sensational novel on the screen. A cast of thousands in breathless action; sensational court scenes that recall the golden age of romance.

Corinne Griffith plays the leading female role. She slayed a king; was born in poverty; was more celebrated beauty of her time; was one of the greatest sirens of history. This is the part played by Corinne Griffith as Lady Hamilton. Historical figure and heroine of Harrington's novel.

There is a famous painting of Lady Hamilton by the artist Romney. Miss Griffith bears a striking resemblance to Lady Hamilton's portrait. So startling is this resemblance that during the filming of the picture director Frank Lloyd had Miss Griffith dress and pose like Lady Hamilton in Romney's painting of her called "Ariadne." The Romney painting and the still photograph of Miss Griffith in the "Ariadne" pose show how marvelous is the resemblance in the principal features of the two women.

NEW ORPHEUM
THEATRE OPENS
THIS WEEKMore Delay in Getting Talking Picture Equipment Makes It Necessary to Open With Silent Pictures

Bassano's new picture theatre will open Friday evening this week, August 8th. The theatre has been named the Orpheum.

The theatre will open with a silent picture program, but talking pictures will be installed in a short time.

It was the intention of P. Ubertino, Bassano's theatre man, to open the new theatre with a talking picture program. He had postponed the opening date for several weeks while waiting for the talking picture equipment to arrive, but as only part of the equipment is here now and it may be two weeks before everything is in readiness for the talking pictures, Mr. Ubertino has decided to open with silent pictures.

He cannot yet fix a date for the installation of the talking, but he is making an effort to have them at as early a date as possible.

Junior Baseball
Games at Hussar

HUSSAR, Aug. 6.—On Sunday, Aug. 3 the Drumheller Juniors visited Hussar and took both games of a double header program with the Hussar Juniors. The boys from Drumheller are a fast aggregation of juniors and completely outclassed the home town boys, but in both games the batting of the two clubs was even enough to make it interesting, and the games were filled with exciting moments.

Macdonald, the heavy hitting outfielder of the Hussar team, scored the only circuit clutch when he smashed a vicious one over the outfield. There were several two-base hits and two three-baggers. The Hussar boys found it exceedingly difficult to steal against Gene Nishols' fast peg from the home plate.

Whipple, the Drumheller twirler, turned in a fine game for the visitors and with good support held the Hussar team down to a small number of hits in the first game. His co-worker, Hanger, turned in a fine game in the second battle, and allowed only 4 runs to score on him. Both Heryford and Anderson worked well, and it was mainly due to their pitching that the Hussar team was able to hold their opponents down at all.

Batteries: Whipple and Nichols; Hanger and Bernardo for Drumheller; Heryford, Anderson, and Bell for Hussar.

Scores: first game, Drumheller 4, Hussar 1; second game, Drumheller 10, Hussar 4.

Umpires: Heryford and Anderson. Standard vs. Hussar.

On Friday evening the Standard and Hussar ball teams again met on the Hussar diamond. A large crowd gathered to watch the game. It was not up to mark, however, as the score was too high, 17 to 11 in favor of Standard.

T. A. Hawkshaw umpired the game.

WHEAT PRICES
CLIMB 10 CENTS
IN PAST WEEK

Bassano in the United States and Export Demand Now Market on Upward Climb

The wheat market has made a remarkable recovery from the slump of last week when prices were the lowest in seventeen years.

On the Winnipeg market today, Thursday, October futures were quoted at $1.92 7/8, just 10 3/4 cents higher than one week ago.

The upward swing started on Monday when tales of weather-scarred crops all over the globe caused a rise in prices which closed 2 5/8 to 4 1/8 cents above last week's figures. Hot, dry weather in the corn belt of the United States and the markets across the line on the upgrade and Canadian quotations were not lost in following.

Prices soared again on Tuesday with final figures 2 7/8 to 3 1/4 cents higher than Monday's close. Heavy outside buying and short coverings were the main factors in the upward movement.

The largest gain was made on Wednesday when prices were listed more than five cents above Tuesday's levels. A blistering sun that has withered corn and wheat crops in the United States, and a rust infection that is daily growing worse in Manitoba and parts of Saskatchewan, was brought a flood of buying orders that sent prices skyrocketing. The favorable harvest weather in Europe, deterioration in quality and reduced estimates of yields also helped boost the market.

On Thursday wheat prices fluctuated but managed to close on the Winnipeg market, and came to rest at eight to one-half a cent above Wednesday's closing figures.

Final prices at Winnipeg on Thursday were: October, 1930 2 7/8; December, 1930 2 5/8; May, 1931.

A bullish tone was in evidence and prices were run up two cents in the initial trading, but Russia, appeared on the scene in the form of a report that the Soviet had sold about 2,500,000 bushels of wheat for export.

The news was not enough, however, as the score was too high, 17 to 11 in favor of Standard.

T. A. Hawkshaw umpired the game.

COMBINES WILL BE WORKING
WITHIN A WEEK

Wheat Expected to Average About 16 Bushels to Acre—About 18 to 20 Bushels to Acre in Irrigation Crops Will Go 25 or 30 Bushels

Bright sunshine and hot weather are rapidly ripening the wheat fields in the Bassano and neighboring districts.

It is expected that the combines will be harvesting in the wheat fields here the latter part of next week.

E. O. Teigland has already cut some wheat with a header, but it was only a small amount that was short and very far advanced because of lack of moisture.

Wheat on non-irrigated land is expected to average about 16 bushels to the acre. The best fields may thresh twelve to fifteen bushels, but the poorer crops will run down the average.

Crops on irrigated land are looking good, and some fine stands of grain are seen at Countess, Glen, Rosedale, Lathorn, and other places. Irrigated wheat should thresh out twenty-five or thirty bushels to the acre. Cutting of irrigated grain will start in the latter part of August.

The Ry-crop
Walter Erickson, of Lathorn, threshed some rye this week. The yield was small. The rye crop in general is not good.

E. P. Munroe expects to start threshing rye next Monday. He estimates his rye will yield about fifteen bushels per acre.

Bather Drowned
In Main Canal

Otto Polmann Drowned in Canal East of Bassano Wednesday Night

Otto Polmann, a Lithuanian, 23 years of age, was drowned in the main irrigation canal just east of Bassano Wednesday night, Aug. 6.

Polmann had lived in the vicinity of Bassano since 1927. He was employed by Callison & Williamson, road builders, who are grading the main highway from Bassano east.

Polmann and his brother, Karl, were swimming near the canal near the railway bridge about nine o'clock Wednesday evening. Karl was first to dive into the water, and he started to swim across the other side of the canal. He heard his brother die in, but when Karl reached the bank on the far side and turned around his brother Otto had disappeared.

It is believed the unfortunate man took a tramp as soon as he entered the water.

Sergeant J. N. Cawsey and other teachers worked until 2:30 a.m. Thursday morning before they found the body, which was downstream several yards.

The water where the men went swimming was seven or eight feet deep.

New Term Will Open With Two New Members on Teaching Staff

The two vacancies left in the teaching staff of the Bassano school by the resignation of Principal W. King and Miss Violet King have been filled, and the staff is now complete and ready for the opening of the new term.

The new principal is L. N. Whitehorn, of Calgary. The other new member of the staff is Miss Sally Ross, of Calgary, a resident of Bassano since 1927.

The complete staff is as follows: L. N. Whitehorn, principal, grades 3, 10, and 11.

C. B. Ross, grades 7 and 8. Miss Sally Ross, grades 5 and 6. Miss Irene Johnston, grades 2 and 4. Orline Hartley, grades 1 and 2.

The new school building contains two rooms. One of these rooms will be occupied by grades 7 and 8 which were formerly in the basement room. The other room in the new addition will not be used until a further increase in the school population makes the use of an additional classroom necessary.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE

Motorists on the main highway east of Coonara Tuesday evening found valuable cars and open, unguarded ditch across the road.

It is dangerous to leave places like this unguarded. The road under repair should be closed and traffic directed around it. It is suitable designs or the dangerous spots should be guarded by signs.

FOR THE ADVANCE OF AGRICULTURE

A conference of the kind of great importance to agriculture the world over will be held in Regina, Sask., in the year 1932, from July 25 to August 1. It is the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference.

Practically every country in the world is expected to be represented at the conference, and valuable cash prizes will be awarded the winners in the various lines of exhibits.
But of greatest importance will be the lecture and addresses given by the most famous agricultural authorities in the world, and the exchange of ideas and discussion of agricultural problems.

The science of agriculture has made tremendous strides during the past few decades. Old methods of farming are being improved and new methods are being developed. The geographical limits of agriculture are being constantly extended. The industry is being placed on a more sound scientific basis and agriculture today is receiving the careful study and increase research of one of the most highly trained scientists in the world.

The conference in Regina in 1932 should be of considerable benefit to the world's most important industry.

WAR IN THE AIR

Aerial engineers are now battling to supremacy in the newest method of transportation, with the advocates of the heavier than air machines on the one side, and the lighter on the other. It is war in the air, but a commercial war, with both sides striving to gain the advantage.

With the successful completion of the trans-Atlantic flight of the British dirigible "R101" in recent times, the proponents of the heavier than air machines added another victory to those recently gained by the German airship, Graf Zeppelin.
In trans-Atlantic flights, the airships have proven their superiority over airplanes, being safer and more worthy than their faster and smaller rivals. For this supremacy is now being challenged by a giant German plane, the Dornier Do-X, which is scheduled to make a flight from Berlin to New York by way of the Azores and Bermuda.
This air liner is built to carry 168 persons and complete with crew and fuel weighs 20 tons.

For short flights over water and for both short and long flights over land the airplane has proved faster, more economical and just as safe as the dirigible.
The coming flight of the Dornier Do-X is expected to revive the trans-oceanic belief which is now ruling in the airship.

INTERMILK FOR MOTOR CARS

Motorists of today with automobiles very nearly trouble-free, have the grief and thrills which were port and parcel of driving during the earlier years of the industry.

Thomas Tomlin, an Oldsmobile-Victor salesman at Birmingham, Alabama, comes forward with a first-class reminiscence to illustrate the point. Back in 1912 he found himself in a perplexing predicament. He was driving in the deep rut of a rough road, with the bottom of his crankcase scraping on the ground when the drain plug of the crank-case was knocked out and he lost all his lubricating oil. There were no service stations on the road and no telephones. Tomlin walked to the nearest farmhouse. The farmer had no oil, but just at the moment he happened to be churning. Tomlin bought six quarts of the butter milk, plunged up the crankcase drain, and successfully drove 30 miles to Birmingham with the churned milk functioning as a lubricant. This was probably the first and only time that an automobile engine has been oiled with the product of the dairy.

Cooling Of Milk And Cream Important

The following article is issued by the Central Experimental Farm. It deals with the care of milk, and applies equally as well to the care of cream.

If they are asked, "What prevents the growth of bacteria in milk?" most milk producers would naturally reply, "Cooling to 42 degrees F." There is, however, another factor involved which is less generally appreciated. Milk, along with blood and other body fluids, has a definite restraining influence upon bacterial growth for some time after it is drawn. If cooling is neglected this effect passes off within a few hours and the bacteria are free to multiply rapidly. On the other hand, if freshly drawn milk is promptly cooled to below 55 degrees F., this restraining influence often continues for 12 hours or longer, as is shown by experiments conducted by the Division of Bacteriology, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. When flasks of freshly drawn milk were immediately analysed and placed in a refrigerator at 52 - 58 degrees F., the bacterial counts after 10 hours storage showed little change, as the following figures indicate:

Immediate Cooling
at start	after 10 hours storage
5,100	6,100
21,000	30,000
430,000	520,000

On the other hand, when flasks of milk from other milkings were not placed in the refrigerator until approximately 3 hours after being drawn, the bacterial counts after 10 hours storage showed marked increases, as illustrated below:

Delayed Cooling
at start	after 10 hours storage
5,100	300,000
21,000	1,100,000
430,000	3,500,000

In the milk cooled immediately it is evident that the bacteria-restraining factor operated very effectively. Where cooling was delayed, however, the restraining factor was much exhausted, and as the temperature was not low enough to prevent growth, the bacteria were free to multiply quite rapidly. Thus we see how subsequent bacterial growth is influenced by the temperature of the milk during the first few hours after being drawn. From this it follows that the higher the temperature at which milk must be held overnight, the more urgent the need for promptness in cooling, in order that the protective influence of this natural bacteria-restraining factor may be extended as long as possible.

As cream is affected the same as milk, the cream shipper will obtain better grades for his cream when he separates and cools it promptly drawn. If cooling is neglected this

ONE GOOD RECIPE MAKES A COOK FAMOUS

Much of the appeal of a meal lies in change from the usual. Combined with a simple meal which endures: cold meat and a salad and a dessert with food tea or coffee, the frozen desserts prove most refreshing. While raspberries are in season the following recipe will be found appetizing.

Raspberry Mousse
1 cupful of raspberry juice, 1 cupful of sugar, half tablespoon of gelatine, 2 tablespoons of cold water, 1 cupful whipping cream, and 3 tablespoons of confectioner's sugar.
Beat raspberry juice and sugar. Soften the gelatine in cold water and dissolve in the hot liquid. Cool the mixture until it begins to thicken and fold in the cream which has been whipped until stiff and sweetened with the confectioner's sugar. Turn into a mold, pack in ice and salt and let it stand for at least three hours. If canned raspberries are used in this recipe less sugar will be needed. Serves six.

WORLD GRAIN CONFERENCE FOR IMPROVING AGRICULTURE

REGINA, Sask., July 29.—The latest estimate by competent authorities of the tangible wealth of the Dominion of Canada, apart from the natural resources undeveloped, amounts to approximately 27 billion dollars. Of this prodigious amount agricultural values amount to 8 billions. It is also estimated by the same authorities that out of over a billion and a quarter acres of the land area of the nine Canadian provinces 200 million acres are available for use in agricultural production. This is two and a half times the present cropped area and five times the present improved area of farm lands. In all provinces with the possible exception of Prince Edward Island agricultural industry.

large areas are still available for cultivation and while the nature of the soil and climate varies, profitable farming operations of some kind may be developed on all of these lands.

A more superficial consideration of these facts indicates the enormous possibilities for the increase of Canadian wealth through the improvement and development of agriculture, more especially when it is remembered that the breeding of new early ripening grain, such as Gairnet and a new wheat, is materially increasing the area capable of agricultural development. The other side of the story, however, is not quite so rosy. It is full of encouraging prospects just the same.

The advancement of science, especially during the past quarter of a century, has not been less to the agricultural industry. The rural worker is no longer a peasant. His industry calls for just as much scientific research, just as much operation, just as much careful planning and just as much business ability as any other industry in the world. He is subjected also, in a special way, to many conditions which, if they do not effect other industries, do so indirectly—soil quality, climate, etc. Over such conditions the farmer has but little or no control. Even in these matters, however, the man on the land is making wonderful progress. Old methods are being improved, constantly as new methods are being developed. Herein may be found the origin of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina, Saskatchewan, from July 27 to August 6, 1932.

Tom, a servant on a southern farm requested his boss to procure for him a marriage license at the county seat, some miles distant. The major, being somewhat absent minded, made a grave error in certain statistics, and had to report to the intended bridegroom the fact that the license had been filled out to Patsy, a colored girl on the place. Instead of to her cousin Milly. "But I've come to town again tomorrow," said the major, "and will be glad to correct the error. Of course it will mean a new license to be bought but I'll pay for it."

"Noseeb, nimmie 'bout dat," grinned Tom. "Ah'll jes go ahead an' take Patsy. Dey ain't three dollars difference in dem two niggers nohow!"

"You're a naughty little girl not to stop thinking about when you're told," said mother. "Now you shan't have any more chocs."

"Why so still and quiet?" asked father but sat on hour later.

"I've been fined for speeding," was the reply.

The Wife: "You ought to get the best car that the market affords."

Her Hubby: "Yes, but probably the market can afford a better one than I can."
